

The one-standard-error rule can only return the smallest candidate when the curve peaks at $k = 1$

